Top 20 Most Amazing Websites on the Internet

γ yognut.com/most-amazing-websites-on-the-internet/

01/08/2022

Hello Readers! Welcome back to Yognut! Today we will explore some cool, useful, and amazing websites which you might have missed. The internet is full of surprises, it has millions of interesting and amazing websites. There are a lot of sites out there that are yet to get a visit from you. And among this wide variety of sites, we have brought you the Top 20 Most Amazing Websites each of which is unique in its own way. Some of the sites are informative, some are useful, and others are efficient and equally entertaining all at the same time.

Check Also: Top 10 Most Useful Websites on the Internet

Here are the top 20 Most Amazing Websites on the Internet

1. FlightRadar24 (flightradar24.com)

Screenshot of flightradar24.com

You are familiar with live tracking for trains but what about live tracking of aeroplanes? With Flight radar 24, now you can check which flight is passing overhead. Flightradar24 is a global flight tracking service. It provides users with real-time information about thousands of aircraft flying around the world. With this amazing website, you can see all the aeroplanes currently flying all across the world in real-time on a detailed map. Tap on any of the flight icons to track its path of flight and to get the necessary information regarding that particular plane. You can get a more customized service if you use it with a paid subscription. For example, you can use the "playback" option to track the flights on any date in the last year, interesting isn't it?

Currently, This useful website is available online and on your iOS and Android device. The app version of flight radar 24 is even more amazing. Along with all the features of an online website, you also get some additional features on the app such as:

- Option to follow flights in 3D View
- Can use "Pilot view" to see what the pilots see
- Find out which flights are near you with AR(Augmented Reality) View simply by pointing your device at the sky and many more features.

Visit this amazing website to learn more about it.

2. Photopea (photopea.com)

Photopea is one of the best and most advanced online image editors which supports advanced image formats from other renowned photo editing software such as Adobe Photoshop(.psd), GIMP(.xcf), Sketch(.sketch), CorelDRAW (.cdr), and Adobe XD(.XD) along with all the general image formats such as jpg, png, etc.

This useful website is compatible with any device (desktop, tablet, laptop, phone, or any other computer), but for the best experience, it is recommended to have a big screen, and a precise pointing device (a mouse or a stylus) and a keyboard. Photopea will run smoothly in your device, just like Sketch or Photoshop do. It doesn't upload any of your files to the web. You can load Photopea.com, disconnect from the internet connection and still be able to use it completely offline. Your files stay on your computer. It contains various editing tools and feels if you've got an online version of Photoshop. You must give a try this useful and amazing website.

3. 10 Minute Mail (10minutemail.com)

Screenshot of 10minutemail.com

This useful website creates an email address that is valid for 10 minutes only. After the duration of 10 minutes, the mail address and the emails in it are self-destroyed without leaving any traces.

- You don't need to fill out any form to sign up, just open the website and you will get your temporary mail address on the homepage.
- If you need more time you can always increase the count down to start afresh 10-minute timer (for the same mail address) until your work is done.

This amazing website is useful if you want to sign up for a website that requires your email address for sending a validation e-mail or if you don't want to give your real email address to any untrusted site which ends up sending you spam messages or if you just want to bypass a survey on a site which requires your mail address.
You can use this site as your private disposable email service which can be used to get rid of spam while retaining your privacy.

10 Minute Mail is available in multiple languages and it's completely free and secure which means only you have the access to your mails

Alternative: www.temp-mail.org/en/ also does the same work without any time restrictions. Instead of 10 minutes, the email address given to you is valid as long as its home page remains open in your browser.

4. Camel Camel Camel (camelcamelcamel.com)

Amazon is one of the largest e-commerce sites on the globe. If you are a regular online buyer, you must have visited Amazon.com at some point and you remain concerned about the price drop of your desired product. Well then, this website is for you. This website shows you the price history of any product available on the e-commerce site "Amazon.com". It can also serve you as an amazing affiliate website if you are active in affiliate marketing.

- You can search the product in this Camel Camel Camel itself or use the URL locator to directly paste the URL address of the amazon page for your product.
- This website gives some product info and a well-defined graphical representation of its price drop in recent times.
- Seeing the graph you can easily find out the pattern of the price drop of the product and buy it at the lowest possible price.
- Once you sign up for this site it can also alert you about the price drop through notifications and helps when to buy that product.

It also contains a dedicated page for "Top Price Drops" and "Popular products" with an interface similar to that of amazon. One awesome thing about this website is that you can upload your full "wish list" directly to see the price drop of all your favourite products all at once. This website is available to shop from Amazon in the US, UK, Australia, and 7 other countries.

Unfortunately, it's not available for Amazon.in, which means you can't use it for products of Amazon India.

Check Also: Blockchain, The Most Trusted, and Safest Technology

---

5. Flag Waver (krikienoid.github.io/flagwaver)

Screenshot of Flagwaver

This is an amazing website for fun that can convert literally any image into a flag. The flag is a Computer-generated simulation but it looks very real. You can paste the URL of the image or directly upload it from your internal storage. Once uploaded, you can immediately see the flag made from that your image on the home page. You can control the wave of the flag yourself by changing the direction and angle of the wind, the orientation of the flag, the direction of hoisting, the type of flagpole, and the background scenery. It's so much fun, give it a try yourself.

6. Mount Everest 3D (www.everest3d.de)

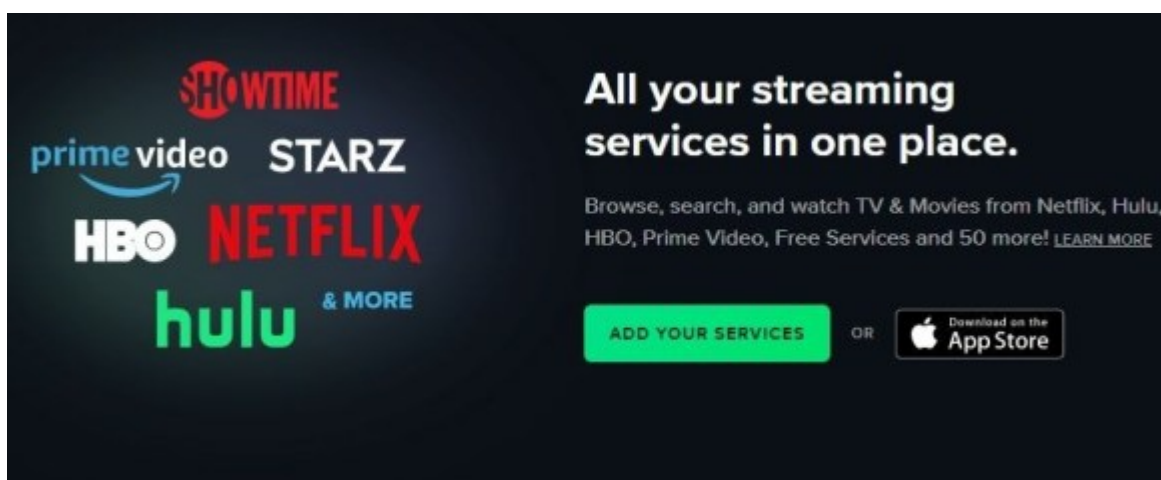

Screenshot of Mount Everest 3D

Want to experience the adventure, thrills, and heights of Mount Everest? everest3d.de is the platform to do so.

This amazing website has an interactive photorealistic 3D map of the highest mountain on Earth- Mount Everest. It has an unparalleled amount of detail and is unique in its resolution. It is based on the latest satellite technology. The map of this site is very easy to navigate and includes the two most-travelled routes to Everest, all historical routes, and themost famous trekking routes in the region of Khumbu. It also comes as a mobile app which makes it your best trekking companion. Visit this website once and you will be amazed for sure.
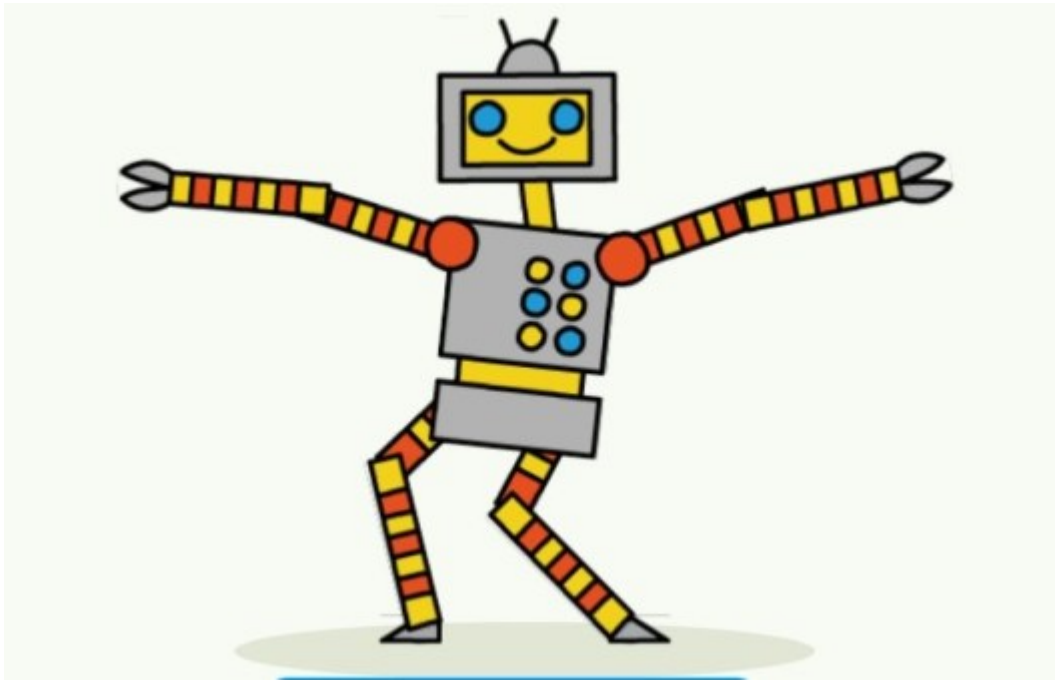

7. Reelgood (reelgood.com)

Can't find movie streaming services? No need to look further. You can see what's popular and on what service. With a gigantic increase in streaming services, it has become a tough task to find out your favourite show or movie. With Reelgood you can find every TV series and movie which is currently being streamed on any streaming platform such as Netflix, Amazon Prime, Hulu, Disney+, HBO, and many more.

This is the easiest and most efficient search engine for all the streaming services.

8. Robo boogie (roboboogie.codeclub.org.uk)

This is an amazing website for fun where you can make your robot perform an amazing dance.

- You have to select from seven 2D animated robots and they dance to different music of your choice.
- You can control the dance of your robot including its movement and rotation of the head, arms, and hips.
- The movements of robots can be controlled either in basic mode or in the "code mode". The "basic model" is really fun and very easy to use. Here you just have to increase or decrease the value of each movement.
- This site can also be suggested to kids who would surely enjoy it a lot. Visit this amazing website, create your dancing robot and save and share it with others.

Check Also: Free Manga Websites

---

9. Giphy (https://giphy.com)

GIF or the Graphics Interchange Format is a bitmap image format where images are in motion in a repetitive cycle. It may be made from a small trimmed part of a video or some animation or images. GIFs are so much fun to use in chats, memes, or comments on social media. And Giphy is the place to find your favourite GIFs.

You might recognize this site if you use GIFs in WhatsApp chats. In WhatsApp, the search for GIFs is done via Giphy. Giphy is one of the excellent sources to get the best & newest GIFs & Animated Stickers online. You can find everything from funny GIFs, unique GIFs, reaction GIFs, and many more. On their homepage, you can see all of the trending GIFs or you also do a search from various categories to find your favourite GIF. You can also create your own GIFs here. I bet you won't regret visiting this site. Enjoy and have fun!

Ever wanted to print some web pages from a website but ends up getting junk versions of pages loaded with advertisements in the print preview menu? Well, this amazing website will solve this issue with ease.

To get the print-friendly version of your page:

- simply copy the URL and paste it to printfriendly.com. The page is optimized for printing. All the ads and junkies you don't want to print are removed.
- And you get tools to further optimize the page. You can select and remove content from that page that you don't want to print.
- You also get to remove images from the page and undo anything at any point prior to printing.
- Once you're ready, you can print the friendly version or get a pdf of your page. The print-friendly version of the page is clean and great to read.

11. Pixel Thoughts (pixelthoughts.co)

"Meditate and relax and lose your stress" this is the purpose of Pixel thoughts. This is a sixty-second meditation tool that will help clear your mind and feel more connected. Open the website and enter your stressful thought and follow the instructions given on site.

Do visit this amazing website once and it will surely bring a smile to your face at the end of the session!

12. The Faces Of Facebook (app.thefacesoffacebook.com)

screenshot of app.thefacesoffacebook.com

This interesting website shows the faces of billions of people on one page. All the people who've posted their photos on Facebook.

- Open this website and try to find your face. If you don't get it at first glance, just zoom at any pixel to find out the faces.
- You can also get to the Facebook profile of the person by clicking on his/her face.

This page doesn't break any facebook policies or whatever. It just shows the faces of billions of people together. Good luck finding your face, Enjoy!

---

13. Domino (domino.roilipman.com/)

Screenshot of domino.rolipman.com

First of all, this is not the Dominos pizza, this is about the puzzle game Domino.

Who doesn't like the mesmerizing view of falling "domino" tiles? It brings us back to our childhood memories. In real life, it takes so much of your time to arrange the blocks only to experience the spectacular view of your hard work falling in the form of domino blocks within seconds.

But here on this website, you get it as a digital domino game.

- Arrange the domino on a wooden block by right-clicking and dragging the mouse and use the left click to view your arrangement in 3 Dimension space.
- If domino tiles are away from the wooden table in the empty space, they will instantly fall.
- You can always clear and start a fresh arrangement.
- You also get to select the colour of domino blocks and save and share your domino.
- This site also has a "Gallery" where other people have saved their domino arrangement, you can draw your own or may use a pattern from the gallery.

Visit this amazing website for fun and enjoy the relief of watching the falling domino pattern of multicolour blocks.

---

*C*heck Also: Blockchain, The Most Trusted, and Safest Technology

---

14. GeekPrank (geekprank.com)

screenshot from geekprank.com

Wanna prank your friends?

Just open this truly amazing website for fun and activate any of the pranks in full window mode and watch their priceless reactions. You can also use this website if you are travelling in public transport and some annoying co-passenger is continuously staring at your screen.
The home page of this website itself is a prank as it opens in the windows XP simulator.

On the homepage, you will find a list of pranks such as "Hacker", "Virus" "Fbi lock", "Fake Windows XP", "Bios" "Matrix Rain" and many more.

Starting with the "Hacker" prank, each of the pranks is best in its own way. Once you opened a prank and activated the full-screen mode by pressing F11, there's no going back.

Also: https://hackertyper.net/ and http://hackertyper.com/ are equally good websites for using the hacker prank.

---

*C*heck Also: 12 Ways to Secure your Smartphone from hackers.

15. Skin Packs (skinpacks.com/)

Screenshot of SkinPack.com

Tired of the boring looks of windows on your computer? It's time to give a completely new look to your system. Visit skinpacks.com to get amazing skin packs to customize the look of your OS.

Skin packs will transform your system into a completely new visual including taskbar, windows, icons, menus, and practically everything displayed on the screen. This website has a large collection of free skin packs available for Windows XP, 7, 8, 10, and even android. You can also download individual components like only an icon pack or only a theme pack.

Visit this amazing website, choose the style that suits you, and customize your digital world.

16. Star Experiment (stars.chromeexperiments.com)

Screenshot of Star Experiment

If you're a space lover, this website is for you. This website brings the whole galaxy to your screen.

- You can simply click on "Take a tour" or manually zoom in to navigate the galaxy map.
- You can see all the space elements like galaxies, stars, etc in 3 dimensions.
- It also has some texts appearing on the space object which provides useful information about it.

Visit this amazing website and enjoy the spectacular view of space by yourself.

---

17. OUTRIDER: BOMB BLAST (outrider.org/nuclear-weapons/interactive/bomb-blast)

Screenshot of Outrider: Bomb Blast

Ever wondered what would happen if a nuclear blast went off in your area? It's horrifying as well as interesting to find out.

- Open this amazing website and put the name of the location to experience the effects of the nuclear blast.
- You can manually enter the address or name of the city or use "location" to do so.
- It will show the number of fatalities and other effects of the blast such as heat, shock waves, radiation from the blast, etc.

You can also change the type of bomb used or the type of blast i.e surface blast or airburst. Apart from seeing the hazardous effects of the blast, you can also learn about the things you can do about nukes on this useful website.

---

18. You're getting old! (you.regettingold.com)

You're getting old!

Date of birth: August 30th, 1998

You are 21 years, 5 months and 24 days old today.

You are 7,847 days old.

Or, to put that in perspective

Screenshot of regettingold.com

Do you think you are catching up with time? Maybe the time has already overtaken you! Visit this amazing website, enter your date of birth on the home page, and Voila!

Your fun will be spoiled if I gave you the description of this site. You might get some idea from the name of the site but not all of it. Visit this site and find yourself all the surprising information that this website has kept for you, enjoy!

---

19. Lamebook (www.lamebook.com)

lamebook

SOCKPUPPET THEATRE

This is an unofficial parody and

lamebook
the funniest and lamest of facebook

Screenshot of lamebook.com

Funny, Embarrassing and sometimes you just can't look away from posts on Facebook that people have made that missed the mark. If you're a meme lover or just want some fun, open this website and experience the lamest of Facebook.

What's funnier? They've even categorized it which allows you to choose from your favourite "Lame category".

---

*Check Also:10 Most Popular Programming Languages to learn in 2019

20. The Revolving Internet and the Sleeping Internet

(therevolvinginternet.com) (thesleepinginternet.com)

Screenshot from therevolvinginternet.com

The Revolving internet is an amazing website for fun and it's a little dizzy site. It starts with a rotating google homepage which is in constant rotation around the screen. Even though the site is moving, it is in a fully functional condition. You can type in the search engine and get the results, it works perfectly and you will find that the next site you visit after a google is also rotating yet working normally.

Sleeping internet works in a similar way but instead of revolving it goes dark after short intervals as if it is the cycle of sleep.

screenshot from thesleepinginternet.com

Though the name of these sites themselves defines the purpose they serve, be sure to check out these sites and explore the fun.

Check Also: Top 10 Most Useful Websites on the Internet

There are lots of amazing websites on the internet and we have brought some of those sites for you. But in the ocean of the Internet, there's always more to find out. So we will continue this series of amazing websites and will soon present them.

Which website did you like the most? Tell us down in the comment section and don't forget to share this article with your friends. You can also share with us some other sites which you found amazing. And your website might make another list in our upcoming articles. If you have a problem with operating any of the above sites, do tell us in the comment section.

Feel free to share your likes and dislikes about this article. Write us down in the comment section and share your experience with us. We will see you soon in the next part, till then, keep visiting Yognut.com!